

Peer Review File

Article information: <https://dx.doi.org/10.21037/gpm-23-29>

Reviewer A

It was managed by laparoscopic excision with conservation of the ovary.

Interesting case, I would include the mode of management in the abstract to clarify that it was managed by laparoscopic excision with conservation of the ovary

Reply: We have added it to our abstract.

Page 1, line 29-30: Following thorough discussions with the patient, a timely laparoscopic removal while preserving the ovary was carried out.

Reviewer B

This case report represents a peculiar event and therefore deserves to be published.

On the other hand, ovarian pregnancy is very rare, so the literature data are limited to case reports only.

In the conclusions I would not use the term "predictive model" which represents a utopia on such a rare event

Reply: We have edited it in the conclusions.

Page 9, line 177-178: The frequency of OP is on the rise, making its diagnosis and management crucial.