

Peer Review File

Article information: <https://dx.doi.org/10.21037/ajo-23-58>

Reviewer A

Well-written summary, abstract clear, appropriate figures, referencing appropriate and contemporary, balanced acknowledgment of contributing surgeons to the history.

Article touches on the political divide of contemporary facial plastics and gives a very clear outline of the otolaryngology roots of the surgical discipline.

Reviewer B

This is an exceptional and well-constructed history of Facial plastic surgery and is to be considered an excellent addendum to the literature. The manuscript is well-considered and should be appropriately cited in the future. I would have no hesitation in recommending that this manuscript be accepted for publication with revision. Congratulations to the authors.