President's Invitation

I would like to extend an invitation to the 71st Annual Scientific Meeting, in the recently completed section of the Melbourne Convention and Exhibition Centre.

I hope you can join us for engaging educational sessions covering the breadth of our surgical specialty as well as an understanding of some of the non-technical aspects of practice.

The conveners plan to bring you a program designed for all otolaryngologists.

We are being joined by prominent keynote speakers in the fields of Otolaryngology, Paediatrics, Laryngology and Head and Neck Surgery.

Melbourne offers a range of arts activities, sports events, world-renowned wining and dining and excellent coffee.

The city is easy to get around and boasts one of the largest tram networks.

Further afield, visitors can travel the Great Ocean Road and the Yarra Valley region, which is ideal for overseas travellers to see more of our beautiful country.

We look forward to welcoming you to Melbourne.

Conveners' Invitation

The 71st ASOHNS Annual Scientific Meeting is being held in Melbourne, September 2021, at the Melbourne Convention and Exhibition Centre. As conveners, we are delighted to invite you to a meeting exploring 'Excellence in ENT'.

We have put together a program reflecting cutting edge developments in our field, as well as sessions about surgical professional development and optimising our patients outcomes in all aspects of their ENT care, both in emerging areas and in our routine day to day practice. We are also running a broad range of satellite workshops, covering laryngology, sleep surgery, RACS courses and other areas.

We look forward to welcoming you to Melbourne in 2021 for all that the meeting and our city has to offer.
