Microbial painting for celebrating the Chinese New Year

Posted On 2019-01-26 17:36:34

Chinese New Year, which is also known as Spring Festival, is the grandest festival in China, with a 7-day long holiday. As the most colorful annual event, the traditional celebration lasts about two weeks, and the climax arrives until the Lunar New Year's Evening comes around. Massive banquets, red lanterns and loud fireworks are essential elements of the festival.

Pulmonary infection caused by Aspergillus glaucus in patient with leucocythemia

Posted On 2019-04-09 10:50:46

A 52-year-old female was admitted to our hospital with cough, fever and fatigue for a week. Her medical history included leukocytosis and myeloproliferative neoplasia for about 3 months. On physical examination, she appeared shallow breathing with fever up to 38.5 °C and moist rale could be clearly heard on the left lower lobe.

Remote cerebellar hemorrhage with acute hydrocephalus after supratentorial surgery

Posted On 2019-11-08 01:24:23

We report the case of a 57-year-old man without previous medical history undergoing left frontotemporal meningioma surgery. The neurosurgical procedure was performed under general anesthesia using a target-controlled infusion of remifentanyl and propofol. Intra-operative course went well without hemodynamic instability or surgical complication.
