

Figure S1 A scatter plot of clinicians' predictions of survival and actual survival (n=2,571). We plotted clinicians' predictions of survival and actual survival for each patient. Points on the 45-degree line indicate patients who lived exactly as predicted; points above the line indicate patients who lived longer than predicted; and points below the line indicate patients who lived shorter than predicted.