

Figure S1 Overview of paraneoplastic ADs associated with TETs. Myasthenia gravis is the most common TET-associated AD. However, any organ system can be potentially affected with the frequency of AD in patients with thymoma ranging from ~40% (in the case of myasthenia gravis) to less than 1% for several ADs (7). ADs, autoimmune diseases; TETs, thymic epithelial tumors.