

Figure S1 Trends in treatments for stage I seminoma stratified by age, marital status, race or region. The lines show that the proportion of patients receiving radiotherapy declines between 1975 and 2015, but no significant differences were observed between the groups in terms of age, marital status, race or region.